

ACS Webinars™
CLICK * WATCH * LEARN * DISCUSS

Valuable Resources for Science and Engineering Consultants

Thursday, March 3, 2011 – 2-3 p.m. EDT

More scientific professionals are turning to consulting as a career. At the same time, more and more companies are hiring consultants as a cost effective business approach. But finding those key resources to build your consulting practice presents a challenge for many consultants. In this session, our presenter and a successful consultant John Newport, will share valuable tips on the many cost-effective resources available for consultants that can help you find your next project, market your technical expertise, be in legal compliance, and develop those necessary skills to sustain your consulting business.

<http://www.acswebinars.org/newport>

What You Will Learn

- How to Build a Network that can Create Job Opportunities
- What is Important in Marketing your Chemistry
- Smart Practices that Keep the Business Going
- And much more...

Meet the Speaker

Dr. John Newport provides consulting and R&D services through Chemventive LLC and ChemInnoLab LLC, where he is a partner. Previously, he worked in the fibers, film, RIM, resins and paper businesses as a Senior Research Fellow at Hercules Incorporated. His areas of expertise cover polymer chemistry, surface chemistry, rheology and transport phenomena.

Acknowledgements

This episode of ACS Webinars™ is co-produced with the Chemical Consultants Network. Learn more at <http://www.chemconsultants.org/>.

The Fine Print

ACS Webinars™ does not endorse any products or services. The views expressed in this presentation are those of the presenters and do not necessarily reflect the views or policies of the American Chemical Society.

